ASTRA AGRO LESTARI TO JOIN THE RSPO

PT Astra Agro Lestari Tbk (AAL), is pleased to announce that it has submitted a formal application for membership of the RSPO.

AAL's CEO, Santosa, said "We made this decision as part of our long-term sustainability continuous improvement strategy, a process which has been in train for some years now. We very much look forward to joining the ranks of independently verified palm oil producers with the highest internationally recognised sustainability criteria. We believe the steps we have taken over the years in land use, conservation, community support, climate impact mitigation, and circularity will serve us well in our journey to certification."

RSPO CEO JD Cruz commented; "we are delighted that AAL has taken this important step to become an RSPO Member in line with its sustainability goals. AAL will soon join a 6,000 strong global partnership to make palm oil sustainable. The Secretariat extends its full support as they move forward on this key milestone."
